Analysis/capturing insights into the text

With a partner (or on your own, if at home), you will watch the Crash Course Literature videos for The Great Gatsby. Go to hetrick.wikispaces.com and click on The Great Gatsby page. As you are watching, you will stop the video and collect a minimum of 10 insights per video. It is true that John Green talks fast and packs in a ton of information, so it is crucial that you and your partner listen carefully, be willing to stop and go back, and find the good stuff that will help you understand this novel. Note the timepoint in the video where you found each insight.
